Books! Books! Books!!!

Four Books for Sale—each on hand a book of 200 pages, well bound, being a discussion of the Slavery question, between myself and Mr. Pease, in which the latter entered into a defense of the glorious old Brown and his boys, as he styled them. These books will interest all who have any interest in the South. They are now for sale at $1.00 each. This is the first and last; it cost just post to mail to say one who will include me own name.

I have my reply to Grimes' "Iron Wheel," with an Appendix, a book of 100 pages, bound cheap in paper covers, which will cost one dollar, paying 20 cents postage, and leaving only 80 cents for the book. Send your orders.

I have also a few dozen copies of my "Political Register" for 1860, a large book, now in play, which I will send to you post-free, for $1.00 each. These books are from the American Executive and the Roger's Democracy, which I will mail at 50 cents.

W. G. Brownlow.

Bell and Everett Meeting

There will be a Bell and Everett Ratification meeting in this city, on Saturday 25th of June, being the second Saturday of our June Court, at which speeches are expected from NAYLARD, TEMPLE, HUNTER, and others. A general turnout is desired, of all friendly to the Constitutional Union Ticket. We have postponed the meeting until then, to suit the farmers, many of whom will have to attend Court, and further, that we may know what has been done at the Richmond framing and Baltimore Squatter Sovereignty Conventions. Come one, come all, to our Ratification meeting!

Another Tragedy in Knoxville—

Another Baby come into the world

More villainy!

Another disgraceful tragedy was enacted in Knoxville, and its vicinity, last week, but at what time we are not yet prepared to say. Selden has it fallen to our lot to record a transaction of so villainous a nature, the mere reading of which is enough to freeze the blood of any moral, humane, and upright citizen. The circumstances of the case, we will give, in the meantime, as we derived them from a reliable source, though we are unable to give names and localities, as we never knew them. The whole affair must and shall come to light, however, and the villainy of the transaction exposed, no matter where it may fall, or who it may affect.

We were notified in the early part of last month, by a source altogether reliable, that a young lady was secreted in some private house in town, or over the River, convenient to town, who had been seduced by some married man, under a promise of marriage, the man either living in Knoxville, or constantly here on business. She was represented to us as the daughter of a respectable and wealthy man in one of the counties of East Tennessee—a young lady so well educated as to have been out of the State, for a time, teaching in some school of high grade. Her purpose in coming here, was to turn the child over to him, as soon as it was born, and disclose the whole affair.

Accordingly, on Thursday night of last week, a fair boy child, about 24 hours old, was taken in a small truck, and with a good supply of clothes, and what money was necessary, were deposited at the house of Mr. JOSEPH STARR, say six miles East of our city. Mrs. Starr having an infant of her own at the time. The little stranger is at a clever home, and is doing well, but the family are utterly in the dark, as to the facts. They were assured that when the money gave out, other funds would be furnished; and in the event that the child should need a physician, they were given the name of a Knoxville physician who would attend, without asking any charge against Starr. Some names were given to the family at the time, but they were evidently ignorant, and intended to mislead. The whole affair is therefore a mystery here, with the exception that the guilty rascal, whatever he may be, has effected a compromise, and bought off the woman so as to prevent an exposure. It is said, moreover, that she is otherwise engaged to be married, and desires to keep her intended in the dark! If this article should meet the eye of the poor fellow about to be duped—and our paper goes everywhere—we desire him to enquire if his intended has been absent during the months of May and June, and if so, to enquire where, and to have satisfactory proof as to the same!

Meanwhile, while we have no clue to the guilty villain here, he must be found out and exposed. Whether in high life, or the more humble walks of society, he is a fit subject for a ride on a rail. No learned man who will perpetrate such an offence, is a fit subject to remain in this community, or to do business here, and the citizens owe it to themselves to expose him from the place!

Once more, as the unfortunate female is still here, or in the vicinity, we suggest to the ladies of the town, without distinction of parties, to go to work and find her, and require her to give up the name of her heartless seducer. The married ladies of the place are interested in knowing, as there is no telling who will turn up as the guilty villain. Too many married gentlemen here keep late hours any way, and it ought to be stopped. Some profess to be at one lodge and some at another. Some are in their counting rooms or law offices, or business, settling accounts, or drawing up bills. Church signaries, such as charmers, elders, deacons and overseers, are visiting their parishes to recruit men. What is but the Church? Gentlemen and business men, all those in high life, who threaten to destroy the South. But who can understand a Democrat? The Post had a just conception of them, when he perpetrated these lines:

"They who injure were not,
And leave it only little to do,
Whether the world is won or lost,
What goes wrong or nothing tick."

More Disclosures.

PATRICK LEARY, late of west Ireland, testified before the Corrode Committee, on the 26th of May, that he was appointed Master Carpenter at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, on account of his politics, and his services to the party in power.

He further swore that he was a member of the Democratic Committee in that City, and that all the government office holders in that city, were required to pay one hundred dollars of their wages, for the use of the party in elections, and in sustaining their papers. A refusal to carry out this programme, was invariably followed by dismissal. He also swore that Jack Cummings, the Naval Store keeper in Philadelphia, lived in Snyder County, and hired out his office for a division of the profits. More than that, Patrick swore, that Jack had an incompetent Clerk appointed, and drew for him $500 per annum.

Let them alight, and, like Lucifer, they will die out after awhile. Luciferian Christianity can no more mingle together than oil and water. But, our friend need have no fears; God will take care of the Church and the Pulpit, and see that the one is provided for, and the other well filled. The Pulpit has survived the tempest which Satan has hurled against it for years, and is yet a column erect among ruins—an editor unshaken amid the overthrow of palaces and temples. The dark thunder signs of Democracy, and the fearful lightnings of Loco-fandom, may pass around the Church, and her sacred institutions, but they cannot hurt them; eternal sunshine shall settle on the Church, and the lamp of her glory shall live and burn undimmed to the end of time!

We again beg our friend to dismiss his fears, and turn his attention to the overthrow of the corrupt and pifering party in power.

Mr. Fillmore Again.

We have received a second episode from Ex-President Fillmore, dated June 2d, in which he incloses the following slip from the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser, of June 1st, requesting its publication, and avowing his preference to be for Bell and Everett:

"Mr. Fillmore again. We are not yet prepared to make any statement on the subject of the Presidential election.

The coming Presidential contest promises to be one of unprecedented interest in the history of this country. We are

and we shall fight, to the bitter end, the thieving, lying, ill-persuading corruption, and wasteful extravagance of the Bushwhacker wing of Democracy—the Seceding, Union-dissolving, political chicanery, treachery, immodesty, insouciousness, and unfaithfulness of the Southern extremists—the Squatter Sovereignty, and disguised Abolitionism of the Douglas wing, and the treacherous adherents, who have traded alone upon the political capital of a petty demagogue—and last, but not least, we shall fight the sectionalism of the Northern Republicans, as a hand of cut-throat Administration to be exterminated from the Union.

Given an account of the meeting, the Wilmington Commonwealth, of the 16th, says:

The adjourned People's State Convention assembled at Dover on Thursday last. The proceedings will be found in another column.

There was a meeting in New Castle County, but we are as yet unable to ascertain who was present.

Every body, everywhere, has gone over to the Bell and Everett Party. We heard nothing but Bell and Everett whenever we went. The People's Party went over to the Bell and Everett man, and declined to serve on the executive committee.

He further stated, after the adjournment of the Convention, that nearly every prominent man of the opposition in the vicinity of his home, were Bell and Everett men.

He was also named as a member of the same convention, and announced that he was, also, a Bell and Everett man, and should enter that ticket.

Ex-Gov. Temple stated that he was a Union man, and should support the Bell and Everett ticket throughout. All that was said put him in the Bell and Everett camp.

And when Bell and Everett were named there was no sign of enthusiasm.

It is the opinion of the People's Party, that the Bell and Everett ticket will be thoroughly elected.

The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we most heartily approve and ratify the nomination made by the Constitutional Union party at Baltimore, of John Bell, of Tennessee, for President, and Edward Everett, of Massachusetts, Vice President; and that we pledge them our earnest support in the coming Presidential campaign.

Resolved, That the statement of principles adopted at Baltimore we hereby reiterate, believing them to be a good enough platform for us.
